Brushes

Brushes are funny, they are numbered, but some brands use numbers for big that others use for small, so I would say to describe it like this:

- One brush that is synthetic that is about 1/2" wide, can be a flat or a filbert style
- One (synthetic) that is about 1/4" wide, either flat or filbert
- One (synthetic) small brush that is round

This would be the minimum. Two or three of the same size is fine and helpful. Sometimes Joann Fabrics sells a set by Royal Langnickel called Big Kids Choice and that is nice and not very expensive.

Canvas

Total of three canvases. Size suggested: 8x10 for the first class and then you can make a more informed decision for the rest of class. Typical sizes are 8x10, 9x12, 10 x 12, 11 x 14, 12 x 16 . If your reference photo is a square consider a 12x12 canvas

Other

- Pad of palette paper or a Masterson Sta-wet Palette with the Acrylic Paper Refills, or a large plastic tray of some sort.
- Metal palette/mixing knife
- Water container- holds 2-2.5 quarts of water
- Bring an apron or paint shirt (or wear old clothes)
- Bring multiple photos of subjects you would like to explore

Reference Photos- please bring photos with water to the first class to share with the instructor to establish a plan for the 2nd class.
