In the End
by Alex Haase

When you always hide
Down deep inside
Yourself
When you hear the lie
That you are fine
You put up the walls that they take down
Because they don't know
How it feels
To be
Alone
And all
My thoughts
Are now a war zone
And I don't want them to see me
Cause they don't know how to understand
When all of their life has been easy
Plainly
Simply Truly
Easy
They don't know what it feels like
To be yourself
In their hands
So you wait for a moment to arrive
When its gone and you can be all right
Because you've put that past behind you
And now you have true friends
Cause when all of your life wasn't easy
It makes you more strong in the end
